So the question is why use Excel? And the simple answer is that you use Excel to keep track of the details. Those details might be your household budget. Or maybe you need to determine whether your business is operating at a profit or a loss. One of the most important things that Excel does is that it helps you understand the story behind the numbers.

We want to provide an update on our previous post: What PSAT Scores Make the Cut for National Merit in 2016? Our initial estimations were based on a “sliding scale” method. Because the National Merit Scholarship Corporation is not using your PSAT score (i.e. the score ranging from 320 to 1520) and is instead converting to a Selection Index Score which ranges from 48-228, we made those ...
